The presentation likes the 'old' Thunderbird Menu Bar. The presentation right clicks in the space above the arrow to get the menu shown to the right. The presentation clicks on 'Menu Bar'.

This is optional to do.

The screenshot shows the Thunderbird email client interface. The 'Tools' menu is open, and 'Add-ons' is highlighted. A yellow callout box contains the following text:

The presentation selects 'Add-ons' as shown.

The next screen shows another way to get to 'Add-ons'.

The interface includes a menu bar (File, Edit, View, Go, Message, Tools, Help), a left sidebar with folders (Inbox, [Gmail]), a search bar, and a message list table.

This is a screenshot of the Mozilla Thunderbird email client interface. The window title is "Inbox" and the address is "tim.preuss02@gmail.com". The interface includes a menu bar (File, Edit, View, Go, Message, Tools, Help), a toolbar with buttons for "Get Messages", "Write", "Chat", "Address Book", "Tag", and "Quick Filter", and a search bar.

The left sidebar shows the folder structure:

- Inbox
 - [Gmail]
 - Drafts
 - Sent Mail
 - All Mail
 - Spam
 - Trash
 - Important
 - Starred
 - Local Folders
 - Trash
 - Outbox

The main pane displays a list of messages:

The right sidebar is open, showing the "Add-ons" menu item highlighted with a yellow arrow. A yellow callout box points to this menu item with the text: "This is another way to get the Thunderbird menu. The presentation selects 'Add-ons'".

At the bottom right of the window, it shows "Unread: 0" and "Total: 4".

The presentation selects 'Install' after finding Lightning.

The screenshot shows the Firefox Add-ons Manager interface. The search bar at the top contains the text "lightning". Below the search bar, there are two tabs: "My Add-ons" and "Available Add-ons". The "Available Add-ons" tab is selected, displaying a list of add-ons. The first add-on, "Lightning 4.0.1.2", is in the process of being installed, indicated by a green progress bar and the label "Installing". A yellow callout box with a black border points to this progress bar, containing the text "The presentation watches the installation." Below the callout box, there is a link that says "See all 486 results". Other add-ons listed include "Lightning Calendar Tabs 1.4", "Lightning Nightly Updater (U)", "Lightning Month Tabs 1.9", and "Lightning QR Code Add-on 1".
